ELT Ireland

A PERSONAL WELCOME

*From Mary Mangan
Director of C2 English School*

Every summer, families place something incredibly precious in our hands: the confidence of their children.

When students arrive at C2, they are not simply joining an English course. They become part of our home, our family and our daily life here in the heart of Ireland.

For more than fifteen years, I have learnt that young people make the greatest progress when they feel safe, relaxed and genuinely excited to learn. That is why we keep our groups small and why every student receives individual attention every day.

English is not something we switch on at nine o'clock each morning. It becomes the language of breakfast conversations, afternoon adventures and friendships that often last long after the programme has finished.

Our aim has never been to become the biggest summer school in Ireland. We simply want to offer the kind of experience we would choose for our own children: personal, inspiring and unforgettable.

I look forward to welcoming your family to our home.

MEET OUR TEAM

*More than teachers since 2011.
Sharing Ireland with our students.*

The school grew out of the way we believe English should be taught: personal, supportive and human. Today, we're a small team who share that same philosophy, in and beyond the classroom.

SMALL BY DESIGN

Because English works better when everybody matters

At C2 English School we deliberately keep our groups small. It allows us to create a warm, supportive environment where every student is known, heard and encouraged from the very first day.

TRULY MINI GROUPS

Typically 3-6 students.
Minimum 3- Maximum 8.

MORE TEACHERS AROUND THEM

Up to 4 tutors & activity leaders. Teaching, travelling, eating and sharing the day.

PERSONAL BY NATURE

Everyone is seen. Everyone speaks. We quickly know their personalities, confidence and needs.

Small isn't just about better English.

It's noticing who needs encouragement. Seeing confidence grow and friendships form. And making sure everyone belongs.

*Yes.
this really can
be the whole group.*
